

Clergy map race solutions

Cincinnati's religious leaders — Christian, Muslim and Jewish — gathered Wednesday with city officials to map out their year-long attack on racial problems.

The clergy are part of the Metropolitan Area Religious Coalition of Cincinnati, a group formed three decades ago to address racial strife and violence.
